

Red Water Natural Skin Care

Red Care

The Red Theory Of Wellness

- The RED water™ proposal is perfectly compatible with the skin's physiology.
- First priority of our scientific group, which develops meticulously the formulas of RED water™, is the effectiveness of the cosmetic line, while they fully respect the skin's natural demands.
- The skin is not only the protective shield of the human organism, it is also a means of communication of the body with the environment. It breathes, senses, receives and transmits stimulants, filters substances, protects and mirrors the individuals health and well-being.
- The composition of the RED water™ products is particularly gentle to the skin's natural demands. It does not interfere with the hydrolipidic layer, while it nourishes with pure substances, minerals and trace elements which protect and respect the skin and reinforce the defense and metabolic function.
- The Red Water line emphasizes on care and protection, and brings the high energy of thermal spring water and nature to the daily demands of skin.
